

The “No Bully Magic Show” with Ken Northridge the Magician

Emma Havens Young school students were recently stunned by the illusions presented during Magician Ken Northridge’s “No Bully Magic Show.” Sponsored by the EHY PTA, the show educated students on what they should do if they are being bullied or how to help someone else who is a victim of bullying. Students and teachers alike were amazed when Mr. Northridge turned a handkerchief into a real live white dove and when he pulled a bunny out of a hat in order to teach students about bullying! Lucky volunteers became part of the show and took part in a number of the magic tricks. EHY students would like to thank the PTA for this fantastic show!
